Doily

Movie Corner: Picnic at Hanging Rock. A beautiful film.

Birthday: Mine is Nov. 6

Music

Bernard Laker - I heard a song and it was beautiful. Influenced by the band Journey the radio announcer said. Aah.

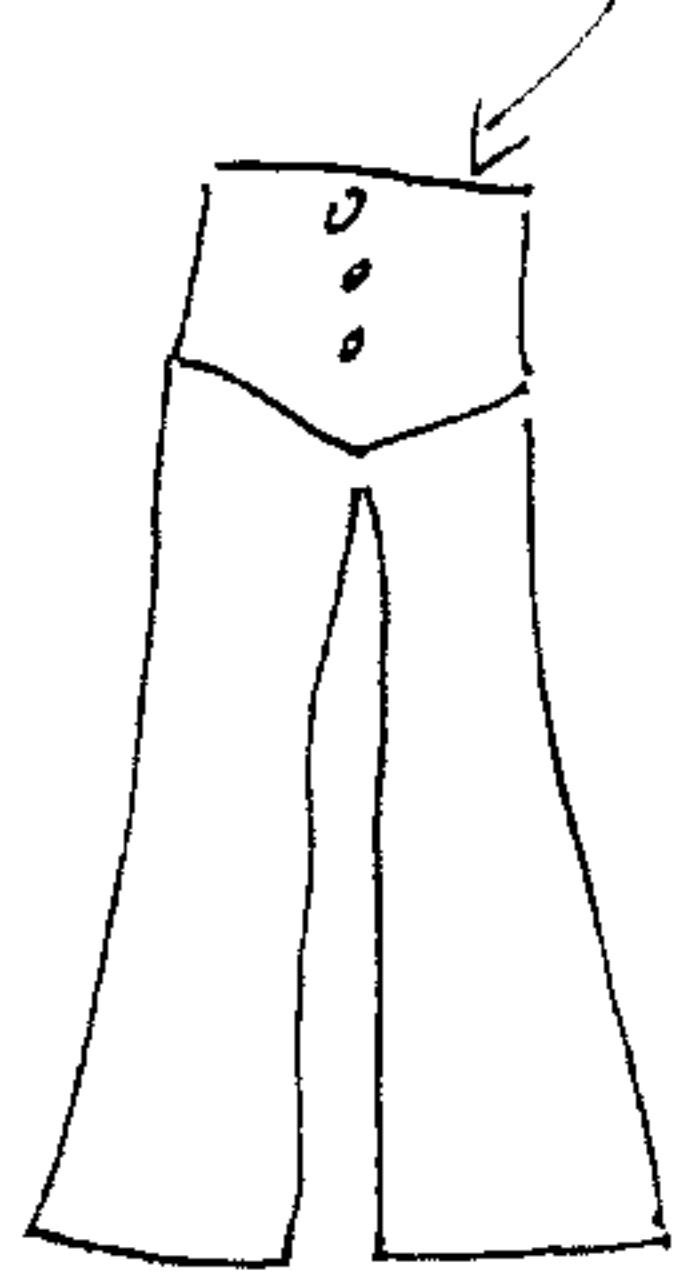

Weather: I like the sun and the wind but not in my car.

Regret area:

A few years ago a gallery owner offered me my own show. Solo show. I turned her down cause I didn't think I had enough time. This will probably be the last regret I print as I think it is my only one.

Fiction: We lived in 2 glass cartles. We communicated by mental telepathy and the electrical impulses in our hearts. We told each other of our suffering. Swept away forever. The tides pulled me in and the red tide turned pink and we sank to Atlantis which was at the very, very bottom of the sea near the pre-historic sea-creatures, phosphorescent and strange where we met Wonder Woman And she LOVED us. The End

Wish:

That I was a famous Russian ballerina.

Recipe

Steel cut oats with goat/sheep yoghurt, hemp seeds, and black sesame seeds

1. Make oatmeal w/ steel cut oats. I made mine in a rice cooker which makes a mess so put a dish towel around it.
2. Put yoghurt (I like peach) on oatmeal.
3. Sprinkle with hemp and black sesame seeds
4. enjoy

Relationship

Story: I once rode for hour (all night) on the bus to visit my love interest at the time in Petawawa at the army base! His name was ~~not~~ actually Love. He was a very interesting Forest Gump type character who collected bizarre experiences such as joining the army. He was recovering from a hernia operation. We watched the movie Carrie (it was his favorite). I was STOKED to eat in the mess hall. He didn't want to go out (date). After I wrote a story called 'Dropped Like a Hot Potato' about him. After the army, he became a Greyhound Bus Driver.

Realization: Deeply preppy people like sex as much as punks.

Travel: Buffalo, New York. I went with my sister. We are hoping to go away together next year.

Question: Did you guys like the movie Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind?
